Principles and Processes of Strengths-based Practice

Strengths-Based Practices (SbPs) concentrates on the inherent strengths of individuals, families, groups, and organisations deploying personal strengths to aid their recovery and empowerment. SbPs are empowering alternatives to traditional methods with individuals, group or organizational work. SbPs refrain from allowing crippling, labelling and stigmatized language. Descriptions and pathology owned by persons groups and organizations that suggest acceptance of their condition as hopeless or helpless to change are constructively challenged through SbPs. Strengths based strategies build and foster hope from within by focusing and working with precedent successes. SbPs strategies facilitate change by assisting to look at what has worked? what does not work? and what might work presently making it important for facilitators and those desiring change to be integral to this process of change.

The Brisbane Institute for Strengths-based Practice propagates, supports and encourages strengths based human resource development and management consulting, counselling, group and community training activities and projects in the Asia Pacific region and elsewhere, through studies, visits, conferences and workshops and major training events.
